

GREEN INFRASTRUCTURE UPDATE

Latest updates on the thriving species spotted in the Follingsby conservation zone

A1M
HIGH

NATIVE BUTTERFLY SPECIES

Various species have been spotted on the Follingsby Max site including the Painted Lady being one of the most popular species.

Painted Lady
Meadow Brown
Small Heath
Large White
Ringlet
Small Skipper
Red Admiral
Speckled Wood

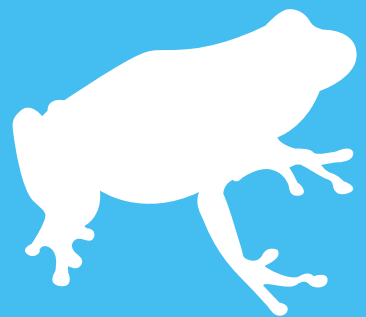

BIRD WATCHING

A huge variety of birds have been identified in the conservation zone including: Grey Heron, Sandpiper, Ringed Plover, Herring Gull, Greater Black Back Gull, Carrion Crow, Jackdaw, Magpie, Linnet, Swallow, Grey Wagtail, Pied Wagtail, Chaffinch, Grey Tit, Willow Warbler, Reed Bunting, Robin, Dunnock, Wood Pigeon, Pheasant and sighting of a Buzzard flying over the site.

AMPHIBIANS & MAMMALS

The Common Toad was spotted hopping along the site along with evidence of Foxes, Hares and Bank Voles.

COMMUNITY ENGAGEMENT EVENT

24 students from East Durham Community College will be attending site on the 8th November as part of a community engagement event run by Durham Wildlife Trust.

SHARED VISION FOR CONSERVATION

Durham Wildlife Trust and WL Straughan will continue to maintain and develop the Green Infrastructure zone at Follingsby Max to ensure it becomes the ecology zone that has been the aspiration of FIEPL, the Council and other stakeholders since it was taken out of the greenbelt.

BUILD TO SUIT OPPORTUNITIES UP TO 2.5 MILLION SQ FT

AVAILABLE NOW ENQUIRE TODAY

Read more about the site and plots
available at follingsbymax.co.uk